KE HITS AT STEVENSON IN OHIO ADDRESS

Cleveland (AP)—President Eisenhower accused the Democrats today of having tolerated "the thievery of inflation" and of talking "wicked nonsense" and "political bunk" in the campaign.

Without ever mentioning his Democratic opponent Adlai E. Stevenson by name, Eisenhower red back at Stevenson criticism in the strongest terms he has used so far in an address prepared for delivery in Cleveland's Public Square.

Eisenhower hit at Stevenson on the farm issue, the cost of living, labor and wages, and on several other points. He said that on the other hand his administration has adopted policies "that have created a tremendous confidence in America's future."

Eisenhower referred to the Democrats as "these men of fret-in fear and worried doubt." Then, turning again to his own Republican administration.

Eisenhower's bid for Ohio's 25 electoral votes and Kentucky's 10 came as his campaign pace quickened. The White House announced yesterday Eisenhower will make a 5,500-mile, 48-hour flying trip in mid-October to Minnesota, Washington and Oregon. All are key states in the GOP drive to re-elect Eisenhower and recapture control of Congress.

In today's speech, Eisenhower swatted at Stevenson's statements last week that the cost of living is at an all-time high and that the President has done nothing about it. Without disputing the government index showing living costs at a record high point, Eisenhower directed his emphasis to saying "the cost of living has been remarkably stabilized—only about 2 1/2 per cent increase in 3 1/2 years." Then he added "during the previous Democratic administration the cost of living increase was 20 times as great."

Daredevil Mechanic Lands His Plane in Crowded Manhattan

New York (AP)—A strapping young mechanic with a "urge to fly" and a desire for a nightcap dropped in by plane at his favorite tavern in crowded Manhattan early Sunday.

Thomas Fitzpatrick, 26, skillfully piloted a small plane down between rows of apartment houses and made a perfect landing on St. Nicholas avenue at 191st street. Then he taxied up the darkened street to the tavern.

Police said he reached the bar in time for a short beer before the 3 a. m. closing.

Officers marveled at the flying mechanic's feat. One said the landing was a 100,000-to-1 shot—"almost impossible."

Olean Woman on Shoplifting Spree Here

Accidents Take Score Of Lives in the State

By The Associated Press
Accidents took 20 lives in Pennsylvania over the weekend. Fourteen of the deaths resulted from highway crashes.

Two deaths resulted from falls, a youngster choked to death on food he was eating, a man was hit by a freight train, another was killed in a farm accident and one person died in a fire.

Charter Presented To Central Labor Council of County

The newly reorganized Warren County Central Labor Council, representing approximately 7,000 persons in 16 labor groups, held its Charter Presentation Dinner Saturday night at Pleasant Fire Hall with approximately 100 representatives, wives and guests attending.

Richard Lichtenwalter, representing the AFL-CIO regional office in Pittsburgh, presented the charter to Art White, president of the new organization.

Other officers present were Ed Hunter, vice president; Simon Hunkabone, recording secretary; Frank Downey, treasurer; N. B. "Shorty" Matthews, trustee.

Warren County President Judge Alexander C. Flick was guest speaker at the affair. He spoke of the juvenile situation and told how his interest in youth problems grew after he became acquainted with two nine and ten year old forgers shortly after he had come to the bench. Flick told of visiting institutions where youthful offenders are placed and his organization of the Warren County Probation Association.

After his talk the Central Labor Council donated $50 to the Probation Association and voted to make it an annual contribution.

After the dinner, the group (Turn to Page Eight)

A rather stylish looking, slender, 44-year-old brunette woman from Olean, N. Y. went on a shopping spree in Warren Friday morning and by noon had amassed some $80 worth of merchandise in her car without spending a cent.

Saturday morning, after a night in the county lockup, Mrs. Ruth H. Smith of Olean, pleaded not guilty to a charge of larcenous shoplifting before Peace Justice Ervina N. Branch and was released on $500 cash bail.

The woman and two companions had hit town early Friday morning and done a little lifting here and there before an alert clerk at Lester Shoe Store ended their foray about 11:45 a. m.

It appears the ladies had tried on a few shoes in Lesters, as ladies will, and then departed. When the clerk was replacing the merchandise, he found one shoe box to be empty. Police were called and short minutes later the trio was arrested as they walked away from their car parked near Metzger Wrights.

The police learned that the women which included the defendant and two sisters, Mrs. Mary A. McFadden, 75 1/2 Second street, Allegheny, N. Y., and Elizabeth A. Threagill, RFD 1, Allegheny, first drove to Bradford where they encountered difficulty finding a suitable parking space. They then decided to come to Warren. Called by Chief Evan District Attorney M. Kornreich suggested that the other two be released because of lack of evidence.

Runaway Street Roller Crashes Into Dwelling

Pittsburgh (AP)—A runaway street roller struck two cars and crashed into a North Side home today, but fortunately nobody was injured.

Fred Searth, 68-year-old retired machinist, who lives at 1961 Straubs Lane, said "If it happened a little later, I'd have probably been right there."

Searth usually gets up a few minutes before his wife to get breakfast started but today decided to linger a few minutes longer in his second-floor bedroom.

Fair Weather Grooms Bow and Arrow Hunters

Harrisburg (AP)—Partly cloudy and cooler weather was forecast by the U. S. Weather Bureau for today's opening of the special 19-day bow-and-arrow antlered deer season.

About 20,000 hunters are expected to take to the field during the extended season which ends October 19. The season was limited to two weeks in previous years.

Hunting hours are between 6 a. m. and 5:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, and only one deer may be killed per hunter.

Detroit Tigers Taken Over by New Owners

Detroit (AP)—Eleven businessmen who paid a record $5,500,000 officially took control of the Detroit Tigers today from the Walter O. Briggs family.

The sale, for the largest price ever paid for a baseball company, actually was made in midsummer but official control went to the syndicate today upon delivery of $4,200,000 in cash.

The new owners and Briggs say they will name a new field manager after the World Series to replace Stanley E. (Bucky) Harris, who resigned last week. No other personnel changes are anticipated, Fetzner said.

Dignitaries Witness Crash of Britain's Huge Bomb Carrier

London (AP)—A huge delta-wing plane, one of Britain's secret atom bomb carriers, crashed and exploded in fog and rain at London Airport today before horrified dignitaries welcoming the plane home from New Zealand.

Hair-triggered ejector seats, touched off just before the four-jet Vulcan crashed, saved the lives of Air Chief Marshal Sir Harry Broadhurst and Squadron Leader D. R. Howard, captain of the plane.

Four bodies were recovered from the smoking, flaming wreckage which littered the airport's "Lucky No. 7" runway for 200 yards. Broadhurst and Howard received minor injuries in their fall of about 300 feet. Parachutes eased them to the ground.

Eyewitnesses and a spokesman for the builders of the Vulcan, A. V. Roe Co., said the canopy mysteriously came off the plane as it swept in for a landing after its 26,000-mile testing-proving flight to New Zealand and Australia. The nose sagged. Two loud "bangs" signaled the ejector seats sending out the only survivors. And then the big plane whopped down.

A group of Russians, at the airport to welcome Bolshoi Ballet arriving from Moscow in Soviet jetliners, saw the crash.

PAPER HIKES PRICE

Tarentum (AP)—The Valley Daily News today increased the price of its afternoon newspaper from five to seven cents a copy. It is the 23rd Pennsylvania newspaper to increase the price above five cents. E. A. Simon, president of the News Printing Co., publishers said: "We have approached the inevitability of this move with extreme reluctance and have resisted to the last any change in the traditional subscription price of the News."

ADLAI PLANS INVASION OF COAST STATES

Washington (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson disclosed today plans for an intensive campaign next week in California, with speeches in half a dozen cities, and in other far Western states.

In a bid for California's 32 electoral votes — exceeded only by New York's 45 and tied by Pennsylvania's quota — Stevenson plans speeches in Oakland, Richmond, Beverly, Fresno, Long Beach and San Diego. Earlier that week he will speak in Great Falls, Mont., Boise, Idaho, Seattle, Wash., and Portland, Ore.

The Democratic presidential candidate, who returned to his campaign headquarters here early yesterday, attended Unitarian church services and then spent the day working on speeches he will make on an eastern swing starting tomorrow and conferring with aides.

In a speech at Minneapolis Saturday night, Stevenson said he was shocked that President Eisenhower had "brushed off" his earlier suggestions for ending the military draft and limiting H-bomb tests.

Stevenson called in members of his campaign command for conferences yesterday at his hotel suite. They included James A. Finnegan campaign director; Wilson W. Wyatt, personal adviser; Chairman Paul M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee; and Matt McCloskey, Democratic national treasurer.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, his running mate, said he and Stevenson agreed at a talk yesterday "the situation is looking fine and we are making very good progress."

He cited Eisenhower's expanded speech making schedule as evidence the Republicans are "worried."

Stevenson planned more conferences today. Tomorrow morning he will leave Washington by plane for Morristown, N. J., where he will be met by Democratic Gov. Robert Meyner for speaking engagements during the day there, at Newark and at Jersey City.

Motorist Takes Blaze To East Side Station

Grass fires, car radio fires and automatic washing machine fires occupied borough firemen Sunday and this morning.

At about 11 a. m. today, three trucks sped to the James Bathurst residence at 809 Conewango avenue where the motor on an automatic washing machine was burning. Damage was confined to the motor.

Yesterday, N. K. Ostergard of 108 Prospect street drove his car into the East Side fire station and watched while firemen subdued a smoldering fire in his car radio. That occurred at 12:25 p. m. At 10:35 last night, firemen were called to fight a grass fire along the Irvinedale Road but it was out when the regulars arrived.

Mercer County Grading and Trucking Contractor Goes on Trial for Robbery in 1955

BULLETIN

At two o'clock this afternoon three jurors had been accepted in the Schwartz trial. Wallace Long, Youngsville, was number one; Natalie English, Kinzua, number two, and Alfred Mulhaupt, Warren, number three. Chris Dahl, of Warren, was challenged for cause by the defense, but informed the court that his mind could be changed, although he had an opinion. After considerable discussion the defense decided to use up another of its challenges the defense decided to cused. Arthur Hill, of Columbus, was then called to the witness stand.

With two alternates still to be selected at press time this afternoon, a 12-man jury had been named as follows: Wallace Long, Youngsville; Natalie English, Kinzua; Alfred Mulhaupt; Arthur S. Hill, Columbus; Dorothea Taylor; John W. Sleeman; Mae Huber, Sheffield; Dorothy McAllister; Charles Anderson, Sugar Grove; Robert Dunn; Carl G. Crosby, Bear Lake; and Maxwell Arnold.

The time consuming task of choosing a jury started this morning as Judge Alexander C. Flick presided over the criminal court session which will hear evidence in the case of Joseph Stewart Swartz, accused of the Tidoute Bank holdup August 18, 1955.

The 23-year-old trucking and grading contractor, neatly attired in a dark blue suit and bow tie, sat immobile on the outside of the second row, flanked by his bride of three months, his mother-in-law, father and two sisters.

Prothonotary Ralph E. Sires read off a list of 87 jurors and 42 were summoned on the first call. Up until noon recess, both prosecution and defense attorneys were still in the process of choosing the 14 "strikeoffs" they are entitled to under the jury selective system.

When this is finished, the fourteen remaining persons will be challenged by both sides. Officials estimated it could take up to two days to complete the juror list.

District Attorney Myer Kornreich and Attorney Sidney Blackman, Jr. are handling the case for the Commonwealth. Benjamin Marks, his son, Marc, and local attorney C. Henry Nicholson are handling the defense. The elder Marks has compiled an excellent record in Mercer County Courtrooms.

Hitler's Successor Is Released From Prison at Spandau

Berlin, (AP)—Former Grand Adm. Karl Doenitz came out of Spandau Prison today and dodged all questions as to whether he would seek a new political role in a resurgent Germany.

Doenitz, who took over from Hitler briefly as the last Fuehrer of dying Nazi Germany, told a news conference:

"Such a man as I can have only one task: To remain silent and to feel his way back into the world and to form his opinion of problems, of all the problems, for there is no isolated problem."

Neo-Nazi splinter groups in Germany have clamored for Doenitz to lead a new Rightwing movement. He made no reference to that in replying to questions about his political future.

Doenitz, now 65 and suffering from high blood pressure, was released after completing a 10-year sentence imposed by the Allied War Crimes Tribunal at Nuremberg.

He was the first of seven top Nazis convicted of war crimes, to complete his sentence.

Nixon Entourage Heads Northward From St. Pete

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—Vice President Nixon's campaign entourage gathered up its gear and headed northward today.

Nearing the end of a 16-day, 15,000-mile tour of 32 states, Nixon billed speeches today in Grand Rapids, Mich., and Milwaukee, Wisc., before a night flight to Hartford, Conn., for a Tuesday morning speech.

Nixon announced plans for a new airborne jaunt starting Oct. 9 to take him into 14 states, including 11 on his current itinerary. He also will make a "report to the public" on TV next Thursday night, one day after his present tour ends in Philadelphia.

Yalta Parley Is Joined By More Top Reds

BULLETIN

Belgrade, Yugoslavia (AP)—Political sources in Belgrade professed today to see evidence of a serious ideological clash inside the Communist party family in the Yalta meetings of Soviet, Yugoslav and Hungarian leaders. They said the clash might lead to a new crisis in world Communist party relations. These quarrels read great significance to the news that the boss of Hungary's Communists, Erno Geroe, has joined the conversations between Yugoslavia's President Tito and the Soviet Communist chief, Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin also is attending the talks, billed by Moscow as a vacation gathering in the Crimea, but viewed in the West as a critical stage of a Kremlin political struggle.

London, (AP)—The premiers of Russia and Hungary have joined President Tito and Nikita Khrushchev in mystery-shrouded talks believed aimed at ironing out conflicts in the Soviet circle.

Premier Bulganin and Hungary's Erno Geroe appeared yesterday at the Yalta meeting billed by Moscow radio as a vacation gathering but seen by the west as a crucial phase in a Kremlin power struggle.

Diplomats in London believe Khrushchev has enlisted Tito's support for his campaign downgrading Stalin. Informed sources say the campaign has embroiled the Soviet Communist party boss in a bitter struggle with old Bolsheviks in the Kremlin.

Tito himself was reported disturbed over a letter Soviet leaders sent the satellites warning them against espousing too heartily Tito's avowed independence from Moscow.

Three Are Saved From Chair By Eleventh Hour Commutation

Harrisburg (AP)—An eight-year legal battle came to an end today in the 11th hour clemency of Governor Leader who commuted the death sentences of three convicted killers to life imprisonment.

David Darcy, 30; Harry Zietz, 25, and Harold Foster, all of Philadelphia, had been scheduled to die in the electric chair at Rockview State Penitentiary at Bellefonte tonight.

But their sentence was reduced to life imprisonment Saturday night by Leader on a recommendation from the State Pardons Board.

The three were convicted of the slaying Dec. 22, 1947, of William Kelly, a bystander, during a hold-up of the Feasterville Tavern in

15 NATIONS IN CANAL USERS' ASSOCIATION

London, (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd formally declared the Suez Canal Users' Association inaugurated today after 15 nations announced their decision to join it.

Lloyd was presiding over a conference of 18 nations which have pronounced themselves in favor of international control of the Suez Canal, placed under state ownership by Ethiopia on July 26.

Japan, Ethiopia and Pakistan have not yet decided whether to become members.

The 90-minute opening session of the envoys wound up with appointment of three expert committees, which will consider:

1. Organization of the association; the powers and relationship of a council comprising a delegate from each member country, an executive group and an administrator, who probably will be a Scandinavian.

2. Operations; the practical questions concerning relationship with Egyptian authorities, payment and collection of canal dues and the possible by-passing of Suez.

3. Financial matters; creation of a common working fund to pay for a secretariat and an operational headquarters which may be set up in Rome or Lisbon.

Lloyd announced that the following 14 countries have advised Britain of their intention to join as full members:

Australia, Denmark, France, West Germany, Iran, Italy, Netherlands, New Zealand, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Turkey, the United States, the United Kingdom and Norway.

Communist Peiping Regime Celebrating 7th Anniversary

Hong Kong (AP)—Red China today celebrated the seventh anniversary of the Communist Peiping government with booming confidence at the top that another dozen years will make their nation a top world power.

Half a million civilians and soldiers marched in the rain before Chairman Mao Tze-tung and other leaders assembled in the Red capital for the just-concluded eighth Congress of the Chinese Communist party.

Marshal Peng Teh-hual, the Peiping defense minister, said in a special order of the day that "liberation" of Formosa is still a "sacred task" of the Red Army.

The marshal also warned that "attempts of the imperialists to violate Egypt's sovereignty and carry out armed aggression against her are doomed to failure."

But Peng said the forces of peace in the world are growing.

Cooties Make First Fall Visit to State Hospital Veterans

Hay Rake Pup Tent No. 4 of the Military Order of Cooties, honor degree of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, got its fall and winter schedule of monthly visitations to Warren General Hospital underway Saturday evening.

Commander Eugene Manfrey introduced the fine program arranged by the hospital co-chairmen, Axel Nasman and Lowell McCanna, and presented Howard Fox as emcee for the visit.

Mr. Fox, with the able assistance of his brother, demonstrated the fine art of Black Magic, then introduced the first act, The Blue Stars, newly-formed band from Warren. This group consisted of Make Musante, Mary Ann Musante, Harold McNulty, Bob Engstrom and Paul Mahaffy. After a few jazz and classical selections, the bandsmen were joined by Vivianne Karol, who sang "September Song", "Stormy Weather", and "Autumn Leaves".

Final act of the show was from Jamestown, in the person of William H. Crosby, who entertained the veterans with his juggling routines.

As The Blue Stars played a few more numbers, the 132 veterans were served cake and ice cream, and were remembered with candy, cigarettes, magazines and other items.

Officers and members of the Pup Tent present were Commander Manfrey, Axel Nasman, Lowell McCanna, Chuck Fitzpatrick, Edward Nasman, Paul Johnson, and Samuel Manfrey. Cooties' present were Mrs. Elizabeth English, Mrs. Alice Nasman, Mrs. Paul Johnson, Mrs. Homer Fitch and Mrs. Carmella Manfrey. There was also a contingent from the Bradford Pup Tent.

Next visitation to the institution by the MOC will be on October 27.

Penn State Alumni Club for County Is Planned at Meeting

A group of interested citizens met at the American Legion Home Wednesday evening to discuss plans and lay the groundwork for developing a Penn State Alumni Club for Warren County.

Ned Spangler, acting as chairman, told the group he had obtained a list of approximately 85 persons now residing in the area who were former students of the University. Spangler, previously very active in an alumni club in York, Pa., explained how that club operated and felt the Warren area alumni would certainly benefit from an active unit here.

Gordon Hanks and Chet Christensen distributed sample copies of a constitution and explained that the purpose of the club would be to promote the interests and welfare of the Pennsylvania State University; to encourage closer fellowship among the alumni and former students of the University in the area; to cooperate, as Penn State alumni, in supporting and developing the civic activities of

Two More Elementary Groups Gather for 'Planning Meeting'

Continuing the series of planning meetings being held by elementary teachers of the Warren Borough School System, Director of Instruction Gerald Newton has entertained two more groups at his Jackson avenue home.

First grade instructors, with Helen Launstein of Home Street building as chairman, centered their general discussions around adjustment of first graders to a full day of formal school and indicated adjustment to school routine is now practically complete.

Teachers feel the present-day child entering first grade is exceptionally well-prepared through his kindergarten experiences, as well as those gained from radio, television, magazines, and games prepared for home use by children.

the community; and to establish closer contact and better understanding between the college and its graduates and former students in this locality.

Plans were made to hold another meeting in late October with someone from the coaching staff as the speaker and films will be shown of a last season football game. Also up for discussion will be the possibility of an excursion trip to the Pitt-Penn State game on Nov. 23. At this meeting officers will be elected and a constitution will be adopted. Robert Anstadt said that every effort would be made to notify all former students of this meeting. Arnold Whren and Bernard Wingert are also on the membership committee.

According to present plans the club will meet approximately four times a year.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

R. D. 2,
Sheffield, Pa.

Editor Times-Mirror:

Just a final word to Mr. Crippen on the cause of the letter I put in the paper. He says it was for revenge. Revenge for what? I only know Crippen by seeing him at committee meetings and have never held any conversation with him. In fact I don't think we ever said "hello". So I cannot see why I should be seeking revenge on a man I hardly know.

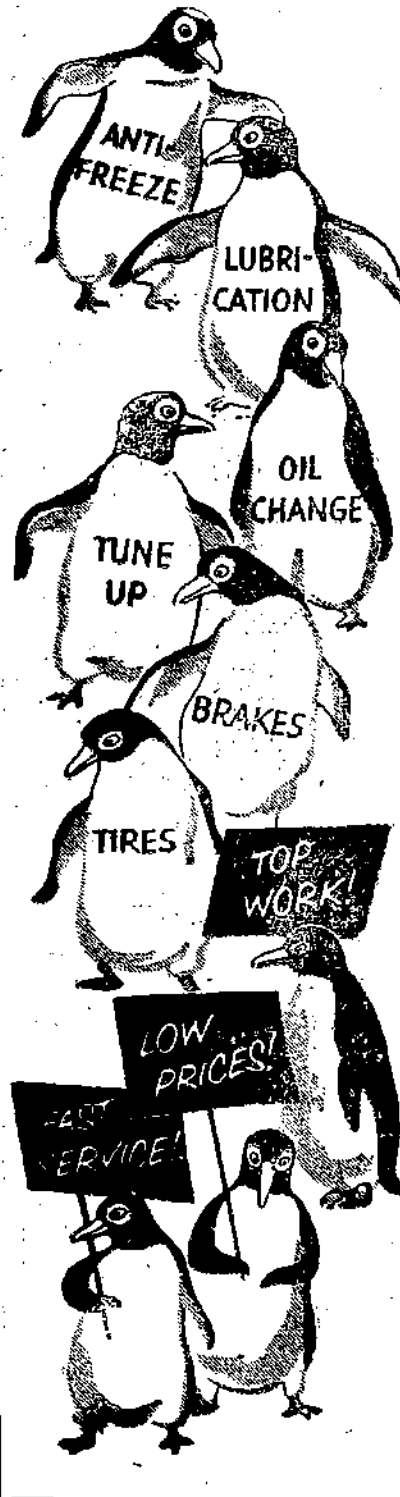

He also stated that I was a committeeman. I am and have been for five or six terms. I was committeeman when Mr. Crippen was nominated. I furnished a car and hauled voters to and from the polls at no expense to anyone. My ward which was two and a half Republicans to 1 Democrat carried Crippen 44 to 42 for one of his opponents Mr. Johnson. Now I want to ask Mr. Crippen; if after working for, and having helped elect him to office, whether or not I should be interested in the way he fulfilled his obligations to said office? If, as he states, he can go to work at his pleasure, quit when he wishes or not work at all, I say we may as well padlock the Commissioners office and throw the key in the river.

Damages in Three Weekend Accidents Amount to $4,000

A child pedestrian escaped serious injury but about $4,000 worth of damages was inflicted in three separate weekend auto mishaps investigated by Warren State Troopers.

Five-year-old Patrick McGray of Follett Run Road was treated at Warren General Hospital for numerous cuts on Friday afternoon after he ran into the path of a car in front of his house.

Leroy Schwab, 25, of 8 North Irvine Street, told state troopers he was driving down the Follett Run Road when the McGray child left his play in a roadside ditch and darted into the path of the vehicle. The driver swerved and applied his brakes but could not avoid hitting the boy. Patrick was released after treatment at the hospital.

At 8:20 p. m. Saturday on Route 348 five miles above Kinzua, two cars sideswiped, shaking up and bruising the drivers while both vehicles had about $1,000 worth of damages inflicted.

Troopers said Paul Robillard, 21, of 809 Fourth Avenue, was headed south and Richard Frank, 27, of Sugar Grove, was going north when the mishap occurred.

Third accident happened at 12:30 a. m. Saturday when a car carrying three Jamestown area young men could not make the sharp bend by Goudy's Poultry Farm south of Russell.

Taken to a Jamestown hospital for treatment were Charles Munson, 22, of RD 1, Jamestown, driver of the car; Howard Lewis, 23, RD 1, Lakewood; George Land, 24, 154 Sturgis Street, Jamestown. The 1954 Oldsmobile was practically demolished, according to troopers.

Elderly Driver Sustains Injuries In East Side Crash

An elderly North Irvine Street resident was admitted to Warren General Hospital shortly after noon Sunday following a mishap on Penna. avenue east in front of the State Dinor.

Police said Ernest Erickson, 85 of 14 North Irvine street, was traveling east on Pennsylvania avenue when he apparently started to turn into the dinor. His car was rammed broadside by a west-bound machine and Mr. Erickson was taken to the hospital, suffering from a bad head bump and possible chest injuries.

Driver of the other vehicle was Angelo Bruno, 44, of Tiona. He was treated at Warren General Hospital for a bruised right forearm and left knee. One passenger in his car, Elsie Bruno, was treated for a cut right knee and other bruises, and a second passenger, Mrs. Norita Skiff of 114 West Fourth street, Erie, was given treatment for multiple cuts on hand and forehead.

Police estimated total damage at about $700. Mishap occurred at 12:45 p. m. Sunday.

IN APPRECIATION

I wish to thank all my friends and relatives who sent cards and flowers to me during my stay at Warren General Hospital, also my fellow employers of Warren State Hospital, who contributed to a much appreciated gift.

NEW RESEARCH FOUNDATION

In conjunction with the annual observance of National Business Women's Week, just concluded, it is learned from local officials the Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs has established in Washington, D. C., the first world-wide Foundation for women who work.

Designated the Business and Professional Women's Foundation, it is located in the duPont Circle Building and provides a research center, clearing house and library on all topics and materials related to women workers. Facilities are open to the public.

The research center will conduct special studies in the effects of automation, problems of retirement, and the legal and economic status of women in business and the professions.

Founded in 1919, the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs has grown until today there are 3,300 member clubs in communities covering the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and the District of Columbia. In 1930, BPW took the lead in founding the International Federation, which now has Federations in 20 countries, and all BPW members are also members of International. National Business Women's Week has been an annual event since 1928 and has for its theme this year "First in Leadership—BPW".

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK

President Eisenhower, in a statement marking National Newspaper Week which begins today, says that the nation's newspapers have the responsibility for keeping Americans informed so "they are strong and free to act for the best interests of the nation and the world."

"The ten thousand newspapers of America have a great responsibility," he reminds. "As one of the oldest and most important means of communication, our newspapers must present the facts honestly and in the proper perspective, as their editors continue to speak fearlessly on issues they consider to be of local and national importance. When Americans know the truth, they are strong and free to act for the best interest of the nation and the world."

FIREMEN COME TO THE RESCUE

Departments affiliated with the Warren County Active Volunteer Firemen's Association, always Johnny-on-the-spot in any emergency, have come to the rescue again in the present somewhat critical situation involving emergency ambulance service for residents of the Warren boro and the area. In accordance with repeated reminders local morticians suspended ambulance service as of midnight Sunday. In the meantime three departments, including North Warren, Youngsville and Russell had completed arrangements to operate ambulances, and today at least two of them are prepared to take calls, and the third is expected to be ready for similar service some time this week. A grateful community joins in extending a vote of appreciation to our rural Fire Departments.

OLD FASHIONED DAYS PARADE

Latest word from officials in charge indicates that the size and success of the Old-Fashioned Days Parade scheduled for next Saturday morning hinge pretty much on the number of horses that will be made available to draw the numerous antique vehicles that have been entered.

Persons owning riding horses, farm teams, or other types of equines that can offer for parade service are urged to contact the Chamber of Commerce office, 470, immediately, or call the home of Parade Chairman Jack Barr, 3330-R.

Those Olean shoplifters who invaded the town last weekend failed to reckon with Warren's alert police department!

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.—Mark 12:30.

The love of God ought continually to predominate in the mind; and give to every act of duty grace and animation.—Beattie.

The Harvest Could Be Votes

Here and There

The annual reminder that World Series time is at hand comes in the form of a postcard dated Chicago, September 28th, at 4.30 p. m., which says: "Chicago, Sept. 28. We are at a standstill; don't know where we are going. Will be at the Hotel Taft in New York, if Brooklyn wins, and the Victoria Hotel in Milwaukee if the Braves win.—E. J." (Which means that Emmett Jennings, and his good wife Rose, of Tucumcari, N. M., are making their annual pilgrimage east to attend the World Series, and within the next week or ten days may be expected to stop in Warren for a chat with relatives and old time friends, where Jennings spent much of his boyhood)

Ownership of The Renovo Daily Record turned full circle last week with the announcement that the 85-year-old publication has returned to the grandson of the original owner, Bennett Shaffer is the new owner and publisher. He purchased the newspaper from Harlan Murrelle and associates of Sayre. Incidentally The Record has been in the Shaffer family from its founding by John Upton Shaffer in 1871.

This is National Newspaper Week, and in observance of the occasion we renew the standing invitation to area residents, subscribers and patrons to call at The Times-Mirror and tour the plant any day it is in operation. In this connection it may be interesting to review for readers the long list of weekly and daily papers that have served the community down through the years beginning with the Conewango Emigrant. As compiled by H. L. Blair, former county superintendent of schools, in his "Warren County Review of its Historical-Political-Social Development," printed in 1950, it follows: Conewango Emigrant, 1824; Warren Gazette, 1828; Warren Union (John Q. Adams); Warren Dawn, (Anti-Masonic); Voice of the People, 1829; Warren Bulletin; Warren Advocate, 1838; Warren County Standard, 1847; Bear Lake Record, 1886; Evening Paragraph, 1884; Warren Evening Democrat, 1893; Warren Evening News, 1895; People's Monitor (Whig) 1838; Allegany Mail, (Whig) 1848; Warren Ledger, 1849; Youngsville Express, 1849; Sugar Grove News; Youngsville Courier, 1930; Sheffield Observer, 1901; Warren Chronicle, 1917; Warren Evening Mirror, 1882; Warren Evening Times, 1900; Warren Times-Mirror, 1928; The Warren Tribune, 1923; Today's Magazine, 1909. It might be stated that some of the papers were either weekly or daily and in many cases of short duration. Usually their beginning was political or social in nature, and a few were neutral. Mention might also be made of the only religious newspaper published in Warren it was edited by the late W. A. Rankin, and published from 1880 until about 1882.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★

Adlai Spends Every Spare Moment at Writing Chore

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—There is no rest for Adlai Stevenson from now till election day.

From here on, it will be a six weeks' continuous campaign. The idea is to have Stevenson come face to face with as many people as possible.

His vice presidential running mate, Estes Kefauver, is doing the same thing. They are traveling by plane, train, bus, auto caravan—streetcar, horse and buggy or on foot where necessary.

The great problem which the Stevenson campaign managers say they'll have is to find time for their man to get off in a corner some place by himself to do his writing.

This, the Stevenson handlers have learned, is an essential part of their candidate's make-up. He still likes to do his own reading, thinking and writing.

THERE ARE from 40 to 50 advisers now shooting ideas at Stevenson all the time. This campaign staff sifts ideas and submits drafts of sections for speeches. But when the writing of an important speech has to be done, Adlai is the original do-it-yourself man.

This explains why he is supplementing his speeches this year with a series of written statements which will set forth his principles and his personal platform, for the record.

Stevenson does his writing with a soft lead pencil on a big tablet of ruled white paper. His two secretaries, Carol Evans and Phyllis Justafson, have now mastered the Stevenson scrawl, with its many tiny interlinings and marginal notes. They make a first type-written draft.

Stevenson then goes over this and successive drafts, making corrections right to the very last minute—or later. When he got the text of his first speech to reporters four hours ahead of delivery at Harrisburg, it was something of a record.

HE LOOKS FORWARD to plane hops—day or night. With no distracting telephones or conferences, that's when Stevenson goes to town on his writing. He begrudges time taken from his composition. He doesn't feel good if he doesn't have a pencil in his hand, scribbling, part of each day. He almost never dictates speeches.

On other personal characteristics, the Stevenson staff members say he has improved over four years ago.

He can handle more correspondence, faster. He can meet more people and conduct his business with those he does meet in less time. He is more interested in people. Having to beat Kefauver changed him that way.

In the four years since 1952 Stevenson has been in every state and almost every county. He has a tremendous grasp of local politics.

ONE OF THE MOST encouraging developments to the Stevenson managers this year is the way state and local Democratic leaders come to meet him with their troubles. They know he helped them in local elections. They are more anxious to support him now than they were four years ago.

With all the emphasis on meeting and working with these local Democratic leaders this year, television is to be a completely supplemental type of campaigning for Stevenson.

Stevenson's principal fund-raising effort during the campaign will be as headliner for a series of dinners on Oct. 20. They'll be connected by closed-circuit TV.

Otherwise, the Democratic hopes for being able to pay their own way will be on the "Dollars for Democrats" rallies Oct. 16 and the collection of Roosevelt dimes.

Woodrow Wilson Centennial Observed In U. S. And Abroad

This year is the 100th anniversary of the birth of Woodrow Wilson, father of the League of Nations and its successor United Nations, and his Centennial is being celebrated in virtually every nation of the free world, although when he died 32 years ago he was widely regarded as an impractical visionary.

But in the third of a century since his death, his own country and free people all over the world have come to recognize that Wilson's dream of peace through international cooperation was not an impractical ideal and they are joining this year in memorial ceremonies that girdle the globe.

The surge of recognition began when the Congress established a Wilson Centennial Commission to arrange appropriate observances of the 28th President's centenary. President Eisenhower followed with a Proclamation calling upon all Americans to participate. Since then more than 500 memorial programs in this and other countries have focused attention on Wilson's contributions to the development of democratic government in the United States and enduring peace for the world.

Today, with the Centennial Year only half over, Wilson is being spoken of with Washington and Lincoln as among the greatest of all American leaders. President Eisenhower, unable personally to participate in a Wilson program at Staunton, Virginia, sent an Assistant Secretary of State who proclaimed: "Wilson's approach to world problems was, in a fundamental sense, to shape the character of our response to such problems for as long as we can see ahead."

Tributes have come from statesmen as geographically widely scattered as Sir Anthony Eden of Britain, General Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines, Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand, C. K. Wellington Koo of China and William V. S. Tubman of Liberia. The mayors of more than 50 United States cities have appointed Wilson Centennial Committees to arrange local observances. The Governors of 28 States and territories have called upon their people to join in the Centennial.

Official representatives of 36 nations in every quarter of the globe joined in a pilgrimage to Wilson's birthplace in April. More than 10,000 individuals journeyed to his home in two weeks to view an outdoor drama based on his life in July.

Born in Staunton, Virginia in 1856, Wilson was the son of a Presbyterian minister and gave great emphasis to religious philosophy in his career. Wilson was a scholar who studied at Davidson College, N. C., Johns Hopkins and Princeton, and the author of outstanding works in the fields of government and political science. He was an educator who taught at Bryn Mawr, Wesleyan and at Princeton where, as President, he radically altered the pattern of American higher education. Although he did not practice long, he was an attorney who studied law at the University of Virginia and became an authority on congressional government.

Before he became a public official himself, he was successful in achieving adoption of the shorter ballot for elections. In office, he turned out a corrupt political machine in New Jersey. He appointed the first Secretary of Labor, established a Federal conciliation service for labor disputes, regulated railroad and merchant marine employment conditions and outlawed child labor.

He extended Federal credit to farmers for the first time in our history and initiated the first program of Federal aid to highway construction. He established the Federal Reserve System which is the core of our banking structure. He brought the Federal Power Commission into being to conserve the nation's water resources. Under his administration women's suffrage was adopted.

His greatest achievements, of course, were his successful prosecution of what was then the largest war in history, the writing of the Versailles Peace Treaty based on the Fourteen Points he deemed necessary for world order, and the creation of the League of Nations to preserve world peace.

He returned to the United States after the peace conference to rally American support for the League but failed, suffering fatal illness as a consequence of his effort. He finished out his term in the White House but when he died the world returned to "normalcy." His warnings of the need for international cooperation for peace were all too prophetic.

During this year, more than 150 universities and colleges in the United States and many abroad have arranged special lecture series, seminars, institutes and library exhibits for the study of the principles of government administration and international relations enunciated by Wilson. Nearly a dozen full-length books on Wilson or containing selections from his voluminous writings are being published this year.

The Congress has named the newest bridge across the Potomac after Wilson. The Wilson Birthplace Foundation in his home town of Staunton is raising $500,000 to restore the house in which he was born. His bust is being placed in America's Hall of Fame at New York University. The American President Lines' ship "Woodrow Wilson" is making a Wilson Centennial Cruise to Pacific ports where special celebrations will be held.

High schools and elementary schools are devoting renewed attention to Wilson in their courses. Organizations all over the country are showing "Spoken Men for Tomorrow," a new film produced by the Woodrow Wilson Foundation entirely from specially processed newsreels and other materials of his time.

50th Anniversary Of Oscar Bensons

Russell—Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Benson were honored with open house at their home last Sunday, when over 100 relatives and friends called during the afternoon and evening hours to help them celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

The home was attractively decorated throughout with bouquets of summer flowers, gifts from organizations and friends, and the table was centered with a decorated tiered cake topped with a golden "50" and flanked by yellow candles in crystal holders.

Mrs. Charles Johnson, a sister of Mr. Benson, and Mrs. Louis Benson, a daughter-in-law, poured, while the Benson daughters served the cake. A granddaughter, Mrs. Phillip Colvin, had charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Benson received her guests in a blue silk dress, with which she wore an orchid corsage, a gift from her daughters, and Mr. Benson was remembered with a yellow carnation boutonniere.

Friend and relatives were present from Jamestown, New Castle, Tionesta, Monongahela, Florence, Warren, and Russell to remember the couple with many gifts and a purse of money.

Christina Ladrille and Oscar Benson were united in marriage September 22, 1906, in Butler, have resided in this vicinity for 48 years and on their present farm since 1913.

They have seven children, Louis and Clair, of Russell; Mrs. Earl (Mabel) Sechrist, Mrs. Harold (Margery) Smith, of Warren; Robert, Miami, Fla.; Mrs. Glen (Florence) Swanson, Jamestown; and Mrs. John (Alice) Brasington, Tionesta. They also have 19 grandchildren.

Teens

Formal Gown

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

FALL wardrobe problems don't end with a teen-ager's first day of school. The errors and omissions she's made during her pre-school purchases continue to pop up.

One necessity for many teen-agers is something that doesn't bother most young married women, unless they move in a very stylish set. That's the problem of the evening gown.

A girl needs an evening gown, or a dress-up dance gown, when she's in high school if she ever does. There are important dances throughout the school year, at the holidays and at graduation, and if she's a college girl she may need one for dinners now and then.

The trend these days continues away from the floor-length dress. A short dress is easy to manage in the snow or rain. It's less expensive in most cases. It gets torn less easily than a dress a man can put his foot through.

But if a young woman needs a dinner dress (one that's covered in the shoulders and has some semblance of a sleeve) and her budget is short, she would do well to get one dress that will do for both. It could be one with a jacket or bolero or a tailored stole. The coverage should be sufficient for church, since a girl sometimes needs this dress for bridesmaid roles or for choir recitals.

A girl who sews well could make herself a bouffant, festive skirt and a strapless top in the same fabric. This would do well for dances and parties. The skirt, worn with one of the many pretty ruffled blouses available today, could do for dinners or recitals.

Harried Housewives Need Help in Organizing Jobs

WHAT many housewives need more than another labor-saving device is practical instruction in home management. When a business concern finds itself in a hopeless muddle it calls in a professional "Mr. Fix" to look the situation over and say "You're wasting man hours here" and "You're spending too much for this and not enough for that."

But when an overworked, frustrated wife and mother finds herself putting in 12 to 16 hours a day and still not getting everything done, she has nobody to turn to for help.

Such women are accused of being "poor managers." Perhaps a lot of them are. But they want to be better managers. They just don't know how to organize their work in order to have smoother-running, more easily managed households.

IT'S HER JOB, SINK OR SWIM

MOST cities today have charm schools, reducing salons and all sorts of courses where a woman can learn about art, music and gardening.

Where can a woman who needs help in organizing her housework, learning housekeeping short cuts and managing the family budget turn?

No place.

Once she becomes the mistress of a house and the mother of a family she is on her own. If she finds herself inadequate to handle all that falls on her shoulders it's just too bad.

That's one reason why so many busy young mothers write, giving me their daily schedules and say in discouragement, "there just aren't enough hours in the day for me to get everything done."

There ought to be some place I could tell them to go to for help in reorganizing their work load.

Bed Scuffles for Vets in Hospitals

Returning recently from her customary summer vacation in Michigan, Mrs. T. L. Armstrong, Re Cross Camp and Hospital Services chairman, is swinging into action on several projects designed to benefit hospitalized veterans in area institutions.

One of these projects is called "bed scuffles," and in this work Mrs. Armstrong is being given a helping hand by several sewing groups. The scuffles are made from gaily-striped denims and are easily bound and put together.

Ladies Aid members at Cable Hollow EUB church are working under the direction of Mrs. Richard Gage and Mrs. Emory Jordan is heading another group at Bear Lake. Mrs. Sheridan Brown directed the Lutheran women who worked last season on the same project and First Presbyterian women were headed by Mrs. W. R. Walsh.

These last two groups have again expressed their willingness to help and probably have their material at hand since Mrs. Armstrong reported on her plans a week ago.

The thousands of veterans in the hospitals in western Pennsylvania need many of these scuffles and any other groups who would like to have a hand in their manufacture have only to call the Red Cross office, 2926, and Mrs. Armstrong will soon be ringing the front doorbell with supplies.

It's for the Short-Waisted Lady

Here, for fall, are fashions sized to fit 80 per cent of American women without expensive alterations. Chief difference between these clothes and "regular" sizes is the waistline, which is shorter here. Gray wool dress (left) is one-piece, has two-piece look achieved through loose bolero-type top edged with corded Venise lace. The shapely look appears (center) in an alabaster beige silk alpaca evening gown. Empire waistline is paired with many-pored parasol skirt. Costume (right) is in yarn dyed gray wool. There's an empire sheath topped by a short, buttoned jacket. All designs are from Hannah Troy.

BY GAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—A new range in sizes, developed for the changing American figure, has made its bow in the fall collection of Hannah Troy.

It's the opinion of this designer that many women are cheated of good fashion because their waistlines are shorter than those of women who take the so-called regular sizes.

With this in mind, Mrs. Troy created a whole collection for the woman who is not necessarily "petite" but simply shorter-waisted. She may or may not need the length of the dress changed but she definitely will not need expensive waistline alterations if she falls into the new category of sizes.

Ready-to-wear, Mrs. Troy thinks, should be almost exactly that—and seldom is. So there's the annoyance and the expense of alterations. These are the alterations she's trying to eliminate with her short-waisted fashions. The new sizing is based on research which shows that when women become active, their legs become longer, but the proportions from neck to waist stay the same. Thus a woman who's five feet, seven inches may have the same proportions as a woman who's just a little over five feet. The height difference is in the leg length.

The newly proportioned fashions make up a complete line which is entirely separate from Mrs. Troy's regular collection.

SUCCESSFUL FAIR AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. W. H. Cowden and her committee engineered a most successful Food Fair and Shopper's Luncheon Friday at the Woman's Club. Special credit goes to the women who sooted and displayed so effectively the myriad of aprons, which soon sold out. Other tables groaned with all manner of good-to-eats, and soon they, too, were gone. The courtesy checking table did duty for those desiring to avail themselves of the shopper's luncheon.

A buffet lunch was served in the clubrooms, attractively decorated by Mrs. A. J. O'Connor and Mrs. William Cashman, using fruit, flowers, vegetables and seed pods to carry out a fall theme. Miss K. M. Andrews and Miss Anna Grandin were hostesses to diners, and Mrs. Beatrice Donovan, Doris Hamilton, Margaret Middaugh, Helen Goldstein and Miss Margaret E. Wright were dining room assistants. To these, especially, and all who helped make the first public event a success, Mrs. Betts Martin wishes to express her thanks.

FIRE AT RIDGWAY

Fire destroyed three buildings and damaged a fourth at Ridgway Saturday, with losses estimated at more than $150,000. Fire units from Ridgway, Johnsonburg and St. Marys fought the flames more than six hours before bringing them under control and saving a nearby hotel from damage. Chief Stuart W. Speer, Sr., blamed the flames on a grease fire in the kitchen of Bill's Restaurant. He said that a delay in raising the general alarm gave the blaze a headstart and the restaurant building was engulfed in flames by the time the first units arrived at the scene. The fire spread quickly and gutted the Sons of Italy club and a large building, formerly occupied by an Acme supermarket but now virtually vacant. Four families living in apartments in the buildings were forced to flee and suffered heavy personal property losses.

Here's Recipe for Picture Frames

There's New Delight on 'Menu' of Home Decorating

BY KAY SHERWOOD NEA Staff Writer

IS THE collection of prints suitable for framing that you've clipped from magazines or saved from calendars filed away, waiting for frames that will put it on the wall?

So is mine. I have a portfolio, good intentions and not much spare cash to spend on good, permanent framing.

Some of the prints, gay and pretty as they are, may not be ones I'd want to live with for years. But I could use them for the color they'd add to stairwell, bedroom or hallway.

THAT'S WHY I leaped like a trout at the suggestion from the Tide Washing Clinic for an inexpensive way of framing them that's both easy and fun to do. The main ingredients—a box of detergent, liquid laundry starch, cake icing decorator and cardboard—are probably on hand in your home right now. So this makes a good spur-of-the-moment project to try when you're in need of a change of pace.

Mixing detergent and starch together in the proper proportions produces a grainy batter to start with. This is whipped to a creamy "frosting" which is spooned into the decorating gun and squirted onto a cardboard frame in plain or fancy scrolls. The material hardens to plaster-like firmness and the finished effect is much like that of rocco plaster frames.

I followed the following directions and the results were successful:

1. Cut your picture backing from cardboard (I used a heavy-weight cardboard). This should

Rich-looking frames for these prints you've always wanted to hang can be fashioned from ingredients purchased on a modest budget. They're formed on cardboard bases from a detergent-and-starch mixture which can be applied with a cake-decorating gun.

2. Cut a mat from cardboard or heavy mat board to fit around picture, pasting outer edges of picture on this with paste.
3. Mount picture on this with paste.

mat to cardboard backing. I used a razor to cut the mat to insure sharp, clean edges.

3. Cut a cardboard frame to fit around mat and paste down.
4. Shield picture with a piece of waxed paper.
5. Now, mix one cup of granulated detergent with six table-spoons of liquid starch until mixture resembles coarse cake batter.

BEAT WITH an egg beater to whipped-cream consistency. You can apply the mixture to cardboard with a table knife for a smooth effect, or it may be swirled on with a spoon. But I like best the effect achieved when it's squeezed on with an icing gun.

Prepare only enough mixture for one frame at a time, as it dries rapidly.

When dry, attach screw eyes and picture wire to cardboard backing and it's ready to hang.

IF YOU WANT COLOR, stir poster paint, gilt or ink into the batter. Or tip the scrolls with gilt after the frame is dry.

Another pretty variation is to spray the cardboard frame with gold before its pasted down and work in a lacy effect to let some of the gold shine through.

Incidentally, if you are decorating a doll house for Christmas, you can make miniature frames for tiny pictures, using a toothpick to apply material around the cardboard backing. Some of the bird-and-flower prints on stamps from the National Wildlife Federation are just the right size for doll-house walls.

State Dems Making Plans For Visit Of Estes on Wednesday

Harrisburg (P) — The Democratic State Committee will embark on "one of the heaviest concentrations on getting out the vote for the Nov. 6 election during Adlai Stevenson's one-day tour of the state Wednesday says Senator Joseph M. Barr, state chairman. Stevenson will swing through the state from Scranton to Johnstown aboard a special train and make eight speeches during the trip.

Barr, in another weekend statement, said that U. S. Senator James H. Duff, GOP candidate for reelection, condoned what Barr termed "the most evil system of macing ever known in Pennsylvania" during his term as governor. Macing is a term applied to forced campaign contributions by state workers.

Joseph S. Clark, Democratic candidate for U. S. senate, carried his campaign to Reading yesterday.

Mercer County

(From Page One)

Middlesex, near Mercer, had a true bill returned against him by the August session of the grand jury. It found guilty of armed robbery he could be sentenced to 20 years.

The defense maintains Swartz entered the Tidoute bank last August 18, poked a gun into the face of bank manager, R. Krug Cyphert of Tidoute, then fled in a stolen car with $11,776 in small denomination bills.

At least three persons have identified Swartz as having been in the vicinity of the crime when it was committed. Others have maintained that Swartz was with them in and about Mercer near the time the stickup occurred. The difference in miles is 75.

Judge Flick opened the session by reminding the 130 persons in the Court room of their duties, pointing out the obvious duties of himself and counsel and stating it was the duty of the spectators to "behave".

The accused sat quietly through the morning session, moving only his eyes to follow each prospective juror as he or she moved to the front of the room.

Agnes Ekey and Creed A. Erickson failed to show up when the jury list was read and Sheriff Larry Linder was dispatched to round them up, which he did.

The 42 chosen on the first panel are: Dorothy Chester, Benjamin Rhea, Morris Schulman, Eugene Smith, Clayton Armstrong, Wallace Long, Bruno Seldpano, Christ Dahl, Roberta Garrett, William Cannon.

Alden Stearns, Flora Offerle, Natalie English, Alfred Mulhaupt, Ruth Amos, Arthur Hill, Dorothea Taylor, John Wendell, John Sleeman.

Adice Marino, Mertie Hodges, Wendell Peterson, Anna McGarry, Alvan Smith, May Hubert, Dorothy McAllister, Lois Keller, Frank Capp.

Other early entries for the Saturday parade are the Warren Players Club which will be presenting its first play of the season in a few weeks and the Warren County celebration Queen, Miss Betty Ann Pasquino who will occupy a place of honor in the line of march.

Automobiles of the 1926-1932 vintage have been entered and will contrast with the 1956 sports car models which on Sunday will be taking part in the Red Leaf Rally of the local Auto Sports Club.

An ancient baby carriage, an old time tandem bike, an antique ice cream wagon, a survey, and two old horse drawn coaches are among the other items to be on display. The Y-Bar-U Saddle Club is cooperating and will have a group of riders in the parade.

Tomorrow the committee will announce cash prizes to be awarded the entries judged most unique in the opinion of the judges. Forty local retail stores are participating in the three day sales event which will offer genuine old fashioned bargains to area shoppers.

Expert in Consumer Milk Problems Will Testify

Evans City (P) — The State Milk Control Commission arranged for an expert in consumer milk problems to appear for the first time in its history at a hearing today on milk prices in western Pennsylvania.

She is Dr. A. Pauline Sanders, of Irwona, Clearfield County, a nutritionist and student of consumer economics.

The commission said Dr. Sanders has been studying milk consumer problems for the last month and will present her findings at hearings in the Evans City High School today, Tuesday and Wednesday and at Edinboro State Teachers College on Oct. 4.

The commission said that Dr. Sanders will appear as a witness at the hearings as a result of Gov. Leader's request for expert testimony to benefit consumers at milk hearings.

Duff Challenges Adlai Cost-of-Living Charges

Harrisburg, (P)—Sen James H. Duff (R-Pa.) said today the cost of living increased 1,900 per cent more under former President Truman than under President Eisenhower.

The Republican senatorial candidate made the statement in reply to Adlai Stevenson's claim that the cost of living has risen sharply in the three years of the Eisenhower administration.

"The Democratic candidate has the effrontery to attempt to mislead the American people by indicating the Democrats can do more than the Republicans have done 19 times as well as the Democrats as shown by the official records," Duff said.

CONTRACT AWARDED

In a special session of Council this morning at 9:00 o'clock, paving contracts for resurfacing roads damaged in the spring floods were awarded to Mayer Brothers of Erie. The contract is for approximately $44,000, which will be paid through a special appropriation from state funds made available through an amendment to a Flood Damage bill offered in the legislature by Assemblyman Allen Gibson, which had been adopted following hurricane Diane. The legislation made monies available for repairs to bridges and improved roads damaged in the March, 1956, flood. Since no bridges in the borough were damaged all the money will be expended on repairs to paved streets washed out by the high water.

Statue of Liberty Play Saves Warren From Oil City

Mascaro to Hartnett to Powley Covers Distance in Last Three Minutes as Dragons Win, 13-7

Warren High School Dragons almost lost one then won one Friday night when Oil City scored late in the final period and the Belboys had to come from behind to take the turkey, 13-7.

Scoring midway in the first period with a seven-yard plunge by Connie Hultman, Dragons protected a 6-0 lead until five minutes to zero in the fourth quarter when the Oilers Bob Jez from 17 yards out uncorked an aerial to Joe Way who fought over the goal line with half the Warren team hanging on his neck. In a surprise conversion, the first such Oil City drop kick attempt in years, the Oilers took a late lead, 7-6. Berdine's placement attempt for Warren had been blocked earlier.

Dragons, smarting from a late game loss the week before to Titusville, were not to be denied. Unlumbering a passing attack after the next kickoff, Mascaro heaved to Berdine for 17 yards, tossed again to Powley for 19. Then, on the old Statue of Liberty, Lou Mascaro handed off to Bob Hartnett who passed 20 yards to John Powley in the end zone. Victory margin was iced with another hurl from Hartnett to Powley for the extra point, making the score 13-7 with less than three minutes to play. Time ran out as Oil City tried to muster another threat.

Playing what was called their best game of the season, the Oilers mounted the last period attack from their own 43 after a Warren on a 30-yard run by Hartnett which set the Blue and White up for business.

Final count did not accurately depict the scope of the contest. Dragons were stalled on downs on the Oil City three-yard line in the second quarter. In the third another scoring prospect vanished when Warren fumbled on the Oil City eight-yard line with first and goal to go.

One tough break for Warren came in the first half when Connie Hultman, star Dragon quarterback, suffered a twisted knee. X-ray showed that nothing was broken but Coach Fred Bell says the wound will probably keep him out of action a couple weeks. Earlier in the season, the services of star lineman Hank Lanman were lost for the season after a back injury.

Both teams moved the ball considerably during the non-scoring of mid-game play, with Warren chalking up 12 first downs to Oil City's 11, and the locals getting 260 yards in total offense, to OC's 219.

SON TOO HONEST

Lincoln, Neb. (AP)—A Lincoln mother had cause recently to wish she had reared a less frank and forthright son.

The mother was explaining to police the circumstances of an auto accident in which she was involved when her 12-year-old boy piped up:

"It was really your fault, Mom. He (the other driver) was coming real slow."

The mother drew a ticket for failing to yield the right-of-way.

Northern Area Knights Romp Over Silver Creek Team, 40-17

Northern Area Knights continued to power their way through Northwestern Conference League competition for the second straight year Saturday when they rolled over Silver Creek Knights, 40-17, at Sugar Grove.

A crowd of about 350 cheered the defending co-champs of the league through two touchdowns in each of the first three quarters before Coaches Norge Luvison and Fred Bauer sent in everything from the sidelines but the benches in the fourth stanza.

Northern Area was not to be denied as they took the opening kickoff from deep in their own territory and romped to the one-yard stripe where fullback Jim

Brooks Hit Five Home Runs In Sensational "Clincher"

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

A year older, a lot weaver, but still with the knack of winning the big ones, the Brooklyn Dodgers were champions of the National League today.

It took them right up until the last day of the season to prove it, though.

Last Friday, they were a game behind the Milwaukee Braves. Each had three to go. The Brooks needed help from the St. Louis Cardinals, who were playing Milwaukee in the final three-game set.

Not only that, they had to win their last three against Pittsburgh. The Cards came through, winning two out of three from the Braves. The Brooks clubbed the Pirates three times, including yesterday's 8-6 conquest, for a one-game advantage at the end.

The pressure actually was off the Dodgers yesterday because they could do no worse than tie if they lost and Milwaukee won. But the victory didn't come easy. Ace Pitcher Don Newcombe couldn't protect a five-inning lead and had to be taken out in the eighth inning.

Little Don Bessent saved the game. The Brooks hit five home runs—two each by Duke Snider and Sandy Amos and one by Jackie Robinson—and needed them all. Snider's second was his 43rd of the season and set a Dodgers record.

Other noteworthy developments of the final day of the season:

1. Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees became the first player since Ted Williams turned the trick in 1947 to win the major coveted triple crown—batting, runs-batted-in and home runs.

2. Robin Roberts failed in his quest for his seventh consecutive 20-game winning season.

3. Red Schoendienst of the New York Giants got the 2,000th hit of his career.

4. The Washington Senators set a record in reverse, finishing the season with 877 strikeouts, breaking a 42-year-old mark.

Special Season For Archers Opens In The State Today

Bow and arrow hunters opened their sixth special antlered deer season in Pennsylvania today, with the season extending through October 19. The hours for hunting deer with bow are six a. m., to 5:30 p. m., (Eastern Standard Time.)

Pennsylvania's first separate bow and arrow season was in 1951. In 1951 and each succeeding year until this one a two-week season was enjoyed, and only buck deer with the required "rack" were legal game. This year, again, the bowman may take only bucks, the same as described as legal game for the later season. But different from the first five special seasons in this state the 1956 bow and arrow deer season runs for almost 3 weeks.

In 1951 special archery licenses were bought by 5542 persons. Each year the number has increased until in 1955 the sale of these licenses reached more than 17,000. In that season 119 legal deer were reported taken through the use of the bow and arrow in Pennsylvania. The number of archers licensed to hunt bucks in the special season this fall will very possibly aggregate 20,000.

The Game Law lists these restrictions on equipment to be used in the special archery season: "It shall be unlawful to hunt for, kill or attempt to kill any deer . . . with any weapon other than a bow and arrow, or with any bow other than a long bow controlled without the aid of mechanical means, or with any arrow with an explosive head or shaft." This excludes the use of the cross bow, and it is unlawful to carry any kind of a gun while hunting deer with bow and arrow during the special season. Archers who kill a buck during the season are required by law to fill out the big game tag supplied with the hunting license and mail it to the Game Commission, Harrisburg, within 5 days following the close of the bow and arrow season. The successful archer may not kill another deer for the remainder of the calendar year.

Grid Player Is In Serious Condition With Head Injury

Pittsburgh, (AP) — A Geneva College football player was in critical condition at St. Francis Hospital today, suffering from a brain injury received in a game at Waynesburg College Saturday night.

Doctors said that 21-year-old Richard Kadis suffered a massive subdural hemorrhage, which is a large blood clot under the membrane that covers the brain.

Surgeons performed a three-hour emergency operation early Sunday to try to relieve the pressure.

After the game, Kadis had to be helped to the bus where he collapsed.

Coach Byron Morgan of Geneva said Kadis helped recover a fumble that led to Geneva's 12-6 victory.

Interception In Three Good Fights 4th Period Stops Sheffield, 18-13

A pass interception spelled defeat for Sheffield's Wolverines Saturday afternoon when a fleet Smethport back grabbed one out of the blue and raced 65 yards for a fourth quarter TD. Sheffield bounced back to score again with two minutes remaining but the final tally stood 18-13, favor of Smethport.

Wolverines drew first blood eight plays after they got their hands on the ball. Taking a punt from their own 45, Sheffield straight Tied it to the five yard line where right halfback Bill Johnson plunged for the distance. Running play for the extra point was stopped to put the count 6-0.

Play remained scoreless until midway in the third period when Smethport quarter back Cooper broke loose on the 25 yard line and bolted over to knot the count 6-6. Extra point attempt failed.

Sheffield was beginning to move the oval again in the fourth quarter when the ill-fated interception took place. The Wolverines, fighting the clock, then drove to Smethport's 20 and left half back Tom McNeal fired a pass to Bob Miley in the end zone for six more. Johnson endran for the extra point and the game ended 18-13.

Sheffield starting lineup was: Bob Miley, lb; Tom Dunn, lt; Lester Schmiedlen, lg; John Sleeman, c; Joe Goldthwaite, rg; Jerry Slater, rt; George Andrews, re; Tom Cashmere, qb; Tom McNeal, lb; Bill Johnson, rh; John Exley, fb.

This week Sheffield will meet its traditional rival at Youngsville on Saturday afternoon.

THE RED CROSS BLOOD PROGRAM

First in a series of several articles dealing with the Red Cross Blood Program appeared in Thursday's issue of the Times-Mirror and attempted to clear up some of the misunderstandings concerning this phase of Red Cross service.

Another matter which seems to be of considerable concern is the question of who is eligible to give blood. That answer is simply stated:

Any person in good health and between the ages of 18 and 60 years. Those who are between 18 and 21 years of age, must bring with them a permission slip signed by parent or guardian.

When you report to the Blood Bank and volunteer as a donor, the medical and nursing staff will decide whether or not you are of sufficiently good health to be accepted as a donor.

You will not be permitted to give blood if there is any possibility of danger to your health. Mothers who have babies under one year of age, and those who have had major surgery are not taken for one year.

There is always present at Blood Bank a doctor who is happy to discuss any personal questions the prospective donor may have regarding physical condition. This same doctor checks the records after the blood test is taken and the donor's general health is checked.

On the occasion of the Bloodmobile's last visit in Youngsville, 14 persons who felt they could be donors were rejected because of their physical condition was such that their resistance would be lowered if they gave blood at that time. However, all these rejections were temporary and in all probability the same persons will be accepted when they again volunteer.

The mobile equipment will again be at the Youngsville Methodist church basement on October 10 and it is hoped the quota of 150 pints may be realized between the hours of 11:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m.
